AIRSHIPS SHOW GREAT ACTIVITY

Teuton Flyers Make Series of Raids on England.

FIFTY-NINE PEOPLE KILLED

One Hundred and Sixty-six Persons Are Injured—Casualties in Sunday Night's Visit Are Not Yet Available—One Zeppelin Is Brought Down by Gunfire.

London, April 3.—With the exception of the big air raid of Jan. 31, when the casualties were sixty-seven persons killed and 117 injured, the Zeppelin raids of Friday and Saturday nights caused greater loss of life than any previous aerial attacks this year.

The total casualties for the two nights, according to an official report, were fifty-nine persons killed and 166 wounded.

As some compensation for this sacrifice of life, however, the British public finds satisfaction in practical proof afforded of a great improvement in the defensive methods dealing with aerial incursions. For the first time since the inception of this method of warfare on the British coast not only has one raiding Zeppelin been brought down and its crew taken prisoner, but the official report recounts an exciting aerial fight between a Zeppelin and a British airman, Lieutenant Brandon, who, mounting to a height of 9,000 feet, flew over the raider and dropped several bombs on it with effect.

The machine of Lieutenant Brandon was hit several times by machine gun bullets from the Zeppelin. It is still unknown whether the Zeppelin in this fight was the L-15, which was brought down off the Thames estuary, or another craft, which is believed to have dropped its machine guns, petrol tank and other parts.

Alfred Brandon, the British airman, is a native of Wellington, N. Z. He is thirty-two years old and only joined the flying corps last July.

There has been constant agitation in the newspapers for British airmen to ascend and attack Zeppelins and the fact that this has been successfully done gives promise of still greater achievements in the same direction. At the same time it will tend to increase public confidence that the authorities are making progress in their efforts to deal with the Zeppelin danger.

NO DETAILS ARE AVAILABLE

Another Air Raid on England and Scotland Sunday Night.

London, April 3.—The coast of Scotland and the northern and south-eastern counties of England were attacked by Zeppelins Sunday night, according to an official announcement by the secretary of war. The announcement says:

"A Zeppelin raid took place Sunday night, when the coast of Scotland and the northern and southern counties of England were attacked. Bombs were dropped at various places. No details are available."

BIG ZEPPELIN DESTROYED

London Is Pleased Over Better Air Defense.

London, April 3.—Sorrow over the killing of thirty-eight persons in Friday night's Zeppelin raid on England was mingled with rejoicing over the destruction of the L-15, one of Germany's largest sky monsters, captured with its crew as it floated in the Thames estuary and sank.

New measures to guard against air attacks over large populated centers proved more effective than the old. The success of the British gunners was the sole topic of discussion in the clubs and restaurants.

No event since the outbreak of the war has been received in London with greater satisfaction than the destruction of the Zeppelin.

BISHOP LUCCOCK DIES AT LA CROSSE.

La Crosse, Wis., April 3.—Bishop Naphthali Luccock of the Methodist Episcopal church died here. The bishop was attacked by pneumonia while journeying from Helena, Mont., to New York and was taken from a train here and placed in a hospital. His two daughters and a son, the latter pastor of a church at New Haven, Conn., were at his bedside.

RODMAN WANAMAKER.

Planning New Attempt to Fly Across Ocean.

PLANS NEW ATTEMPT TO FLY OVER OCEAN

New York, April 3.—In a new aircraft, to be equipped with six motors of 300 horse-power each, capable of making a speed of 100 miles an hour carrying six persons, Rodman Wanamaker will renew the attempt to fly across the Atlantic ocean which he abandoned in the summer of 1914, when his flight commander, Lieutenant John C. Porte, was called to England for service in the European war.

This was announced by Allan R. Hawley, president of the Aero Club of America.

No date has been set for the attempt, but it is expected to be made some time this summer. The designs for the new craft, while will be named "America," after the old one, have been prepared by Glenn H. Curtiss and W. Sterling Burgess.

SEEKING TWO HOLDUP MEN

St. Paul Police Looking for Slayer and His Accomplice.

St. Paul, April 3.—A net has been spread about St. Paul by police and detectives to catch the bandit who shot and killed Joseph Young in Mike Brown's saloon Saturday night.

The police know who the bandit is and have fairly accurate information as to his accomplice. Both are declared to be desperate criminals.

A mystery still unsolved is the identity of the victim, who died at the City hospital five hours after the shooting. He made statements that led the police to believe that he was Joseph Young of Cleveland, O., and that he had a sister in that city.

CAUGHT IN NEW ORLEANS

Cashier Is Accused of the Embezzlement of $100,000.

Seattle, April 3.—Oliver H. Cline, employee of the Pacific Steamship company, was arrested in New Orleans on a charge of embezzlement, according to word received here. Cline, it is alleged, stole more than $100,000 of the company funds by manipulation of the company's books and bank accounts which he handled.

When arrested he is said to have had $8,350 in his possession, believed to be part of $10,000 he is alleged to have taken from the company's vault when he fled March 12. The advice says Cline was willing to return to Seattle for trial.

STATE ROLLING IN WEALTH

Minnesota Treasurer Has Over Five Millions on Hand.

St. Paul, April 3.—Minnesota is rich. In fact, the state has more money than the officers wish it to have, but it is because of the inability heretofore to lend it that the funds on hand in cash are excessive.

State Treasurer A. C. Gooding has just completed a statement of the amount of funds on hand at the close of the year March 31 as compared with the cash in the hands of the state treasurer one year ago.

At the end of the year just closed there was on hand $5,191,325.08, while one year ago the amount was but $2,531,967.67.

Former Governor Smith Dead.

Baltimore, April 3.—Charles A. Smith, former governor of South Carolina, died at the Johns Hopkins hospital. Death was due to a complication of diseases. Mr. Smith had been a patient at the hospital since March 8. He was fifty-five years old.

UNABLE TO FIND GENERAL VILLA

Pershing's Cavalry Searching for Hiding Place.

BANDIT MAY NOT BE INJURED

Conflicting Reports Are in Circulation Regarding Direction Mexican Raider Has Taken—American Commander May Have to Change His Plans.

San Antonio, Tex., April 3.—Unless Francisco Villa is definitely located within the next day or two it is believed here that General Pershing will begin a dogged search for him in the mountains west and south of Guerrero.

Since the defeat of Villa's force March 29, in and near Guerrero, he has had lightly equipped mobile detachments of cavalry sweeping in whirling fashion through the district about the headwaters of the Santa Maria river, in efforts to locate the elusive bandit.

General Pershing did not get a report through to General Funston, but his chief of staff reported indicating that the line of communication was maintained and no mention of news of Villa was made. There is increasing belief that General Pershing may have been deceived in regard to the direction taken by Villa and even concerning his injuries.

Some reports indicate that he was not injured at all and instead of going northeast of Guerrero he had moved into the hills to the south and east, a direction American army officers had expected him to take.

The new information is not regarded as more credible than that which caused the cordon of troops to be drawn across every exit from the district northeast of Guerrero and it was believed here that General Pershing would not adopt any new plan until he had thoroughly satisfied himself Villa was not in the indicated region.

REPORTS SIGNS OF UNREST

Admiral Winslow Sends Message to Navy Department.

Washington, April 3.—Sunday brought no news to the war department about the hunt for Villa.

Hope for early capture of Villa still prevails in official quarters, but some of the seasoned army campaigners fear that failure to take him at Guerrero may result in a long chase.

Admiral Winslow, reporting to the navy department on conditions along the West Mexican coast, said that, although the situation at present was quiet there were signs of unrest among the natives, particularly in the vicinity of Guaymas and Topolobampo.

SHOT BY KENOSHA POLICE

St. Paul Man Killed While Trying to Escape.

Kenosha, Wis., April 3.—George J. Soybeid, supposed to be from St. Paul, was shot and killed when he attempted to escape arrest. Police Officers Martin Rupp and Thad Logan of the Kenosha force were both firing at him when he fell shot through the kidneys, and he died on the way to the hospital. He had been taken into custody by Rupp when he had registered at the Hotel Moswood, one of the leading hotels of the city, without funds or baggage.

ESTIMATE RUSSIAN LOSSES

Germans Claim to Have Punished Enemy Terribly.

Berlin, April 3.—Fully 140,000 Russians were slain in their recent offensive, according to estimates made by the German military authorities, based on reports from the front.

The storming attacks against the wide sector of the army group of Field Marshal von Hindenburg contained more than 500,000 men, and the slaughter when the heavy German guns opened fire was fearful.

That the attacks were doomed to failure from the start is the opinion of the German military commanders, who assert that not an iota of advantage was won by the Russians.

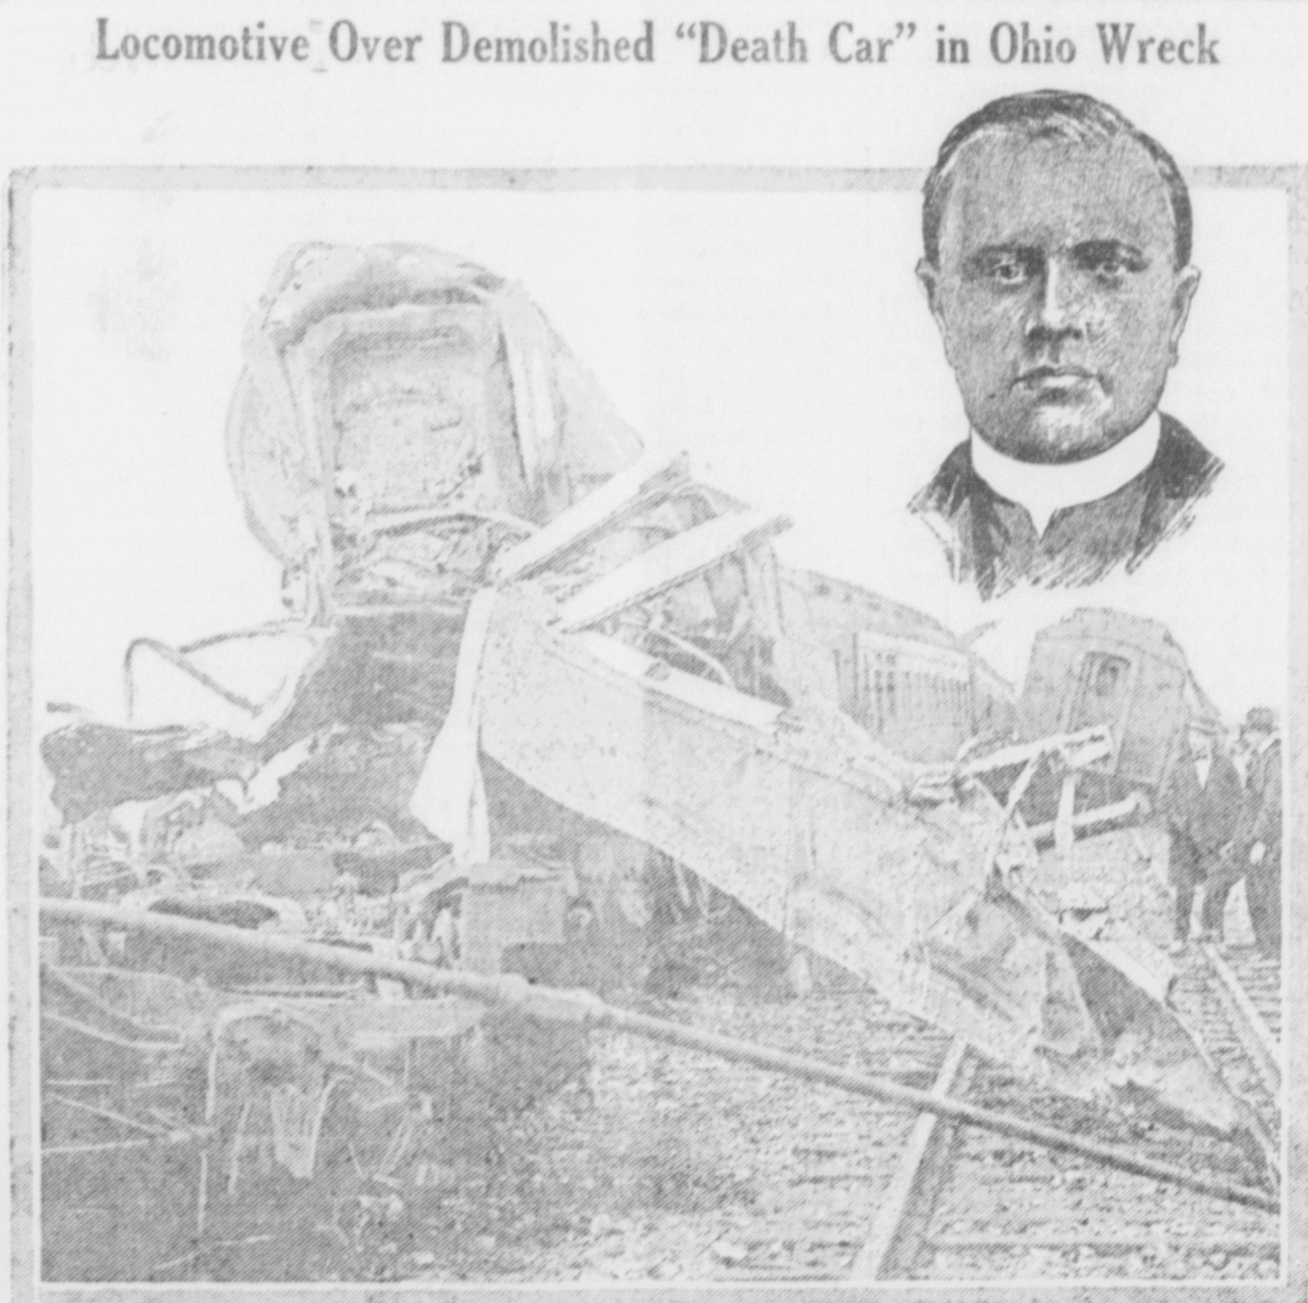

PRISON FOR WOMAN SLAYER

Judge Denies New Trial on Charge of Killing Husband.

Kansas City, April 3.—Mrs. Clara Schweiger, convicted March 8 of second degree murder, was denied a new trial by Judge Ralph S. Lathaw in the criminal court here.

The judge then sentenced Mrs. Schweiger to fifteen years in the penitentiary.

The woman shot and killed her husband, Louis F. Schweiger, a wealthy contractor, May 1, 1915.

TODAY'S ODDEST STORY

By United Press

Hoquiam, Wash., April 3.—

Gum camphor has plugged the biggest loophole in Washington's prohibition law. Inspired to investigate, by the increasing number of drunks, Police Judge Smith learned that grain alcohol was the most popular tippie.

This can be purchased at a drug store if the purchaser swears it is to be used for medicinal purposes. Smith then ordered all druggists to put a few grains of camphor in each flask of alcohol. It isn't poisonous, and some might stand the taste, but it simply won't stay down.

BOUGHT BISHOP PLACE

180 Acre Tract Lake Shore and Wooded Land Acquired by Peacock and Jamieson

What is known as the old Bishop place of 180 acres having a mile and a half lake frontage and bordering Gull, Round and Hubert lakes, has been bought by D. C. Peacock of Brainerd and R. C. Jamieson of Duluth from Charles E. Pope, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

It is historic ground, for John Bishop bought it from Chief Hole in the Day in 1874. Bishop had a road house there and the old log cabin is still in a fair state of preservation.

The Leech lake trail went past his door and there were lively times in the pioneer days when much toting was done and there was no Minnesota & International railway to haul supplies. Two cottages are on the land, built by Fred B. Lynch.

There is a fine grove of hardwood and pine. If the interior was cleared up it would make an ideal golf course, and that is what Mr. Pope had in mind when he bought the place.

Fred B. Lynch's summer home is just across the creek from the Bishop log house. "It's the best piece of lake shore property in the country. I'll admit that much," said D. C. Peacock.

ABOUT ROAD DRAGGING.

System That Will Contribute Much to Making of Better Highways.

In the following communication Mr. O. W. Haney of Davis county, Ia., deals with the question of road dragging and outlines a system of dragging that will, in his opinion, contribute in the greatest possible degree to the making of good roads. He writes:

"It is getting the time of year when the road drag will soon come into play, and there are several things that ought to be brought before the public in regard to road dragging. There are more roads spoiled by dragging than there are made good if not properly dragged in the first place. It requires two rounds to drag a road right, and if they are not dragged right it is money wasted. By two rounds you get out to the ditch and give the water a clear shoot to the ditch. If only one round is made it should be made out to ditch. By dragging one round in the middle of the road you get a ditch started where the end of the drag leaves a little furrow, and this damages the road more than it would cost to drag it twice as much or to drag it twice. I am on the roads every day, and I have seen great ditches cut by poor dragging that it would cost ten times as much to repair as the dragging cost. So why not pay for good dragging and have good roads? It would save money. Then teach the people to drive on the same side of the road when it is muddy and save half of the dragging and tax. I have seen a smooth road get a big rain in the winter and the people drive all over it from ditch to ditch and cut it all up. Then a freeze comes and it is almost impossible to get over the road, where if they had kept on one side of the road the other would have been smooth and good. This is a great item to people that have to be on the road every day. By poor road work and poor dragging half the people's money is wasted.

"Winter dragging is more necessary than summer and ought to be looked after."

signed to maintain the road surface. It is quite true, as this subscriber says, that in some instances the road drag does more harm than good, and the special reference he makes to the proper drainage of the road is a point that cannot be too strongly emphasized. We would like to encourage a freer discussion of this phase of the road question. This paper has always been a strong advocate of sensible dragging, and it has been free to express itself at times in opposition to those who have injured the cause of the drag by attaching to it an importance as a road builder to which it never has been and never will be entitled. We have always maintained that a good grade is the first essential in road construction, after which there is abundant opportunity for the exercise of skill in maintaining the surface by the sensible use of the drag.—Iowa Homestead.

CLOSING PROGRAM OF MUSICAL CLUB

Club Members Grateful to Mrs. R. A. Beise for Furnishing so Delightful a Program

PARTICIPANTS WORK REVIEWED

President Mrs. O. H. Johnson. Announced that Zoellners Had Cancelled Western Tour

That the closing musical club program last Saturday was one of the best of the entire season, seems to be the general consensus of opinion. The violin duos by Edwin Harris Bergh and Julius Witham, were well chosen and well executed, and Miss Cecil Witham's work at the piano was very creditable.

Mrs. Haggard's description of the Nebraska pageant, which she witnessed at Lincoln last summer, was graphic and interesting.

The reading by Mrs. Burnett of a brief sketch of the composer's life, with her own comments on the hand-icap of sex, added piquancy to the piece de resistance on this musical menu. This was a Chaminade concerto, the solo part being played by Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone, and the orchestral parts by Miss Ora Glass and Edwin Harris Bergh.

This number was enjoyed by all the more for having had a previous hearing. A work of this character must be heard more than once for the mind to grasp the full beauty and power of its musical concept. Mrs. Johnstone's name on a program always stands for excellence, and this performance added significance to the synonym.

Those who did not hear this number a year ago, expressed surprise at the power and brilliancy of the work of Miss Ora Glass who has shown a steady musical growth and development since her first appearance before the club. Mr. Bergh's part in this number was also up to his usual high standard.

The club members feel very grateful to the gracious hostess, Mrs. R. A. Beise, for furnishing a program that closes the year with such pleasant memories.

The president, Mrs. O. H. Johnson, announced that the Zoellners had cancelled all of their western dates, but that there would be one more concert provided, to which the club ticket will admit members. This concert will be announced and advertised, so the members were advised to watch the papers for the date of the last musical event of the year.

REVIVALS OF RELIGION NEEDED

The Great Purpose of the Church is to Win Souls of Men for the Kingdom of God

UNION EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

Will be Held this Week at Swedish Baptist Church. Attendance is Increasing

The union evangelistic services will be continued this week at the Swedish Baptist church. The service this evening will begin at 7:45 and be introduced with a song and praise program. Different ministers of the city will have charge of the opening exercises.

Last week the meetings were well attended but it is hoped that a greater number of people will be present this week and a greater interest manifested in the work the churches are attempting to do for the spiritual good of the city.

Revivals of religion are necessary functions of the work of the church just as revival of business is necessary after times of industrial depression. They are corrective in their tendency. Corrective of the coldness and indifference of men toward the higher development of the soul.

The great purpose of the church, the kingdom for its existence, is that it should win souls of men for the kingdom of God. Its purpose is not to gain members for itself but men for the kingdom. If it fails in this purpose it has no justification for its existence.

Union evangelistic services not only show to the world that the churches can unite, not only for the accomplishment of a moral program of civic betterment, but in a campaign for soul winning. The evangelical churches of this city though they differ in forms of government and administration of their rites of worship, yet are joined heart and hand in the proclamation of Christ as the all-sufficient Saviour.

Come tonight! Start the week with a program of worship! There will be good singing, and a hearty welcome for all.

Introducing the Most Charming Middy Blouse Produced

It is fitting that makers of these supreme middie blouses should confine the sale of these products in Brainerd to O'Brien Mercantile Co., indeed an acknowledgment of our supremacy.

Ever since the middie-blouse jumped into popularity, women have anxiously awaited a garment with its comfortable lines, but smarter in appearance. College middies are the first to embody these desirable features.

Sport coats have enjoyed a popularity second only to middie blouses. The Foster College middie embodies all of the advantages of sport coat and a plain middie blouse, the result being what we unhesitatingly call the handsomest and most practical middie ever designed.

The cloth used is Galatea, which is attractive in appearance and most durable. The colors and color combinations are almost limitless in number, the Galatea is striped in most cases, the colors shown being those of all high school, colleges and club.

The design is virtually a combination of about 3-5 middie blouse and 2-5 sport coat. There are buttons all down the front. All have belts. One pocket on each side.

Aitkin County

In 1892 a Scotch youth of about fifteen years, William Aitkin by name, came to Sandy Lake in the eastern part of this county as servant to a trader named Drew. Marrying into an influential Indian family he soon became a trader on his own account. In 1831, he took charge of the Fond du Lac department of the American Fur Co. under John Jacob Astor. In 1851, he was buried on the bank of the Mississippi near the mouth of the Swan River. Six years later his name was given to the county established in this region. It was spelled "Aitkin" at first, as it is pronounced but was later changed by legislative enactment.

One thing the straw vote of the Minneapolis Journal did do was to demonstrate that the presidential primary did not give the voters a chance to express their real choice in the matter of candidates.

The sympathy of the state press will go out to H. C. Miller, of the St. Peter Free Press, in the death of his wife, an estimable lady beloved in her home town and by all who knew her.

A fierce county seat war is on in Pine county and Pine City stands to lose to Hinckley if they don't watch out. A county seat war beats the Mexican game all to pieces when it comes to strife and bitterness, and you have it all right at home not only during the unpleasantness but for years after.

County option will be an issue in Beltrami county on August 14th. The entire county now is under the Indian lid restrictions and their close proximity to the Indian reservation precludes the idea that there may be any lifting of it if any restriction as to its operation is made. With county option and the lid both, however, there should be a dryness in the air that would take the chill off in winter time.

The Cuyuna Range Miner has it that G. S. Swanson, former county attorney is preparing to file as a candidate for the legislature from this district, and that he will make the fifth in the race for that office. Representative Syverson has already announced his candidacy for a reelection to the place which he filled acceptably at the last session. D. C. Henderson, has already toured the range country and made his announcement, while H. K. Dimmick, of Cuyuna, and Frank A. Lindbergh, of Crosby, are each regarded as legislative timber.

A Night in a Field Hospital Near the Front

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Salonica, Greece, Feb. 25 (By Mail)—The first night after the operation was sleepless. The tent flapped and the tent poles creaked in the Macedonian winds. The morphine injection, the Canadian nurse had given dulled the pain but brought no oblivion. The candle on the little pine locker at the head of the cot sputtered in the gust and reading was out of the question. The six blankets weighed a ton, but every one was needed.

On the four other cots in the tent were the huddled forms of British officers.

At short intervals Nurse Johnson came in. She was swathed in a huge sweater. A thick toboggan cap almost hid her face and she swung a lantern in her mittened hands.

The night was divided off into six drinks of milk which the nurse heated on an oil stove in her tent nearby.

At last the bugle—the alarm clock of the army—sounded the morning "wake-up." It was six o'clock. Within 10 minutes there came sounds of intense activity from the tents in which the 200 young fellows from Toronto who make up the force of orderlies in the Fourth Canadian hospital; they were the noises of getting up; sputtering of the cold morning wash; whistling of the latest New York songs—for phonograph records come by every mail.

By seven o'clock everybody is awake. A very much-muffled up little nurse with a sparkling smile and two basins of steaming warm water enters the tent. Behind her comes a boy from Canada in the uniform of an orderly, with two more basins. This is for the morning wash.

The nurse departs to get our breakfast. The orderly, being in a friendly mood stands in the center of the tent and surveys the occupants of the various cots, a British major, two British captains and a British lieutenant. Let it be understood that no British orderly ever addresses a British officer first; the advances must come from the officer. But this was a Canadian orderly.

"Well, how'd everybody sleep last night?" he says.

To your surprise the British officers don't freeze him. One and all they say they have slept well. Then you realize that they have been in the hospital for some time; that they are acquainted with this Canadian orderly and his free and easy Canadian ways.

"So'd I," he says. "Slept like a bug in a rug. Anything extra any of you want? How about you, Mr. New York?" That's you he's talking to. No you're contented.

"It's a cold day and windy," says the orderly. "No German aeroplanes today. But say, talk about cold. This is nothing." He's over in a corner of the tent now talking to a British captain—one of the professional soldier kind from a top notch family in England, who has been stationed in India, Egypt, Gibraltar and almost every other place where British soldiers go—"why in Canada it gets twice as cold as this."

"Is that so? How cold does it really get?" asks the officer.

"Well, you know I once belonged to the Salvation Army in Toronto. I played the big drum at the street meetings and I've seen it so cold, that we couldn't hold meetings; had to give 'em up for a day or so."

"Funny people in this world," says the captain, after being warned and comforted by his first big swallow of coffee. "You've got to understand them and make allowance for them, you know. Can't judge a whole nation by a few of its people. Was a time when I couldn't understand Americans. They seemed to me most extraordinary people. It began when I was walking along the street in Gibraltar one morning in full rig.

"Awfully pretty American girl jumped out in front of me with her camera and said to her friend, 'Oh, look at this fifty little officer.' Then she snapped her camera and smiled at me and went right away. Unusual, huh? But you know I got acquainted with her after that and I found out she was one of the finest girls I ever knew. If I hadn't got acquainted with her, what do you think I'd have thought of Americans all the rest of my life? I mean to say I never would understand them."

About 10 in the morning a huge Canadian medical officer passes through the tent. He's the orderly officer of the day, and if you don't like the way the hospital is being run he's the fellow to tell about it. Everybody's contented, so he goes on his way.

By this time the ward—or the tent—has been put into tip top shape, by the orderly and the little nurse. The beds have been made, the little open-faced lockers at the head of each bed in which each patient keeps his books, his candles, his medicine and his cigarettes and other belongings are put in order and then comes a flood of doctors.

This Canadian tent hospital cost the people of Toronto a quarter of a million dollars. Some of the best surgeons and the most expert physicians on the North American continent are here in Salonica with this unit. It seemed to me that there was a specialist for every known human ailment or for any possible sort of a wound. These doctors pass about among the patients, each attending to his own particular cases and the later part of every forenoon is filled with this activity.

Then comes the visit of the superintendent. His visit tops it all off. Usually all the specialists go on the rounds with him with him, each describing his cases.

The superintendent steps at your bed.

"New case," says the surgeon, pointing at you.

"How are you feeling, young man?" asks the superintendent.

"Well, I have felt better."

"What did you say?" bending his head and turning an ear toward you.

"I said I have felt better."

"Aren't you an American?" he asks. "Seems to me I've heard talk just like yours in New York."

"I am, and I've lived in New York too."

"Bless your heart. We're glad to have you here. You're right among your own kind of folks. We're going to have you all right in a couple of weeks and in the meantime we're going to drop in now and then and hear you talk that New York twang of yours."

And he did, more than once. Every doctor in the hospital with few exceptions had studied, at one time or another, in some American city, chiefly New York or Baltimore.

International High Commission Meets in Buenos Ayres

(By United Press)

Buenos Ayres, April 3.—The International High Commission, assembled from authorized representatives of North, Central and South America, met here today to discuss and recommend uniform laws governing the commercial, industrial and financial interests of the republics.

Treasury Secretary McAdoo heads the United States' unofficial delegation of nine. Former State Department Counselor John Bassett Moore also is a delegate. McAdoo and the other U. Press representatives were excluded from the trip because it was said there was no room for them on the boat.

At the Best Tonight

The Best theatre presents Clara Kimball Young, the most beautiful and accomplished motion picture artist in the world, in a picturization of Alexandre Dumas' famous play, "The Lady With the Camellias."

The picture has been directed by Mons. Albert Capellani, who has made a name for himself in World Film annals by his work in "The Face in the Moonlight" and "The Impostor."

Camille has obtained her name by popular assignment—she was called the "lady with the camellias" after her fondness for those flowers—properly she was Marguerite Gautier, a girl with a bad reputation. But what mattered it? She was lovely and popular. There was a young Count, with millions, at her feet. Yet she did not love him.

It was Armand, the young country lawyer who won her heart. For a time there was happiness between the pair. Then Armand's father persuaded her to give up the boy. Camille reverted to de Varville.

Armand and de Varville fought a duel; and Marguerite died of a broken heart, not however, before making it plain that she really loved Armand.

"Women are strange," Miss Young has a splendid character in that of Camille, and does it the fullest justice. Admittedly the finest and most expressive actress now before the motion picture camera, she rises to the great opportunities which this character gives her.

English and Other Food Supplies in Germany

BY CARL ACKERMAN

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Berlin, April 3.—So many unexpected supplies reach Berlin that a statement of Germany's food situation today is difficult. So many different kinds of food stuffs are on the market today that one wonders whether the English blockade has gone out of business or whether Turkey and Bulgaria are yielding up their stores for Germany.

Whatever the cause, the result is apparent. Germany has more varieties of food on the market today and larger supplies than at any time during the winter. A good deal of food slips by the blockade.

For this reason it may safely be stated that the crisis in the food situation for this winter is passed. Spring and Summer with their garden vegetables and supplies will prevent and critical shortage then, unless it be in meats.

For several days there have been rumors that there would soon be four meatless days a week, but this was officially denied by the Lokay anzeiger. The butter situation will be acute but the authorities are issuing butter cards so there will be no need for the thousands to wait hours in butter lines on the three days a week when that product is sold.

During the last week I visited all the big markets and grocery stores. These visits brought two surprises. First, the daily increase in food prices; second, the great quantities of French, English, Spanish and Norwegian food stuffs on the market.

Food is increasing by leaps and bounds in price. For instance, I priced cocoa Saturday. The best Dutch brand was 1.85 marks per half pound can. On Monday it was 1.90, on Wednesday, 2 marks.

I priced oatmeal, too. A small package a week ago was 55 pfennigs. Today the same amount was 85 pfennig and the best quality of oatmeal could not be purchased in most stores.

I went into several shops to get sardines. "How Much?" I asked. "Here are Norwegian sardines at 55, 65, 75, 85 pfennig a can. But here are some French sardines, the best on the market, at 2.40 for a large can."

"What," I said in astonishment. "French sardines coming in?" "Oh, yes, we have quite a large supply. We get a great deal of foreign goods," said the grocer.

"Here are cans of Italian tomato soup and boxes of Italian spaghetti. We have English salmon, too," he added with pride and a laugh and a wink for the "English blockade."

Afterwards I went to other markets and saw great quantities of canned goods bearing French and English trade marks.

During the last few weeks there have been great quantities of oranges displayed in the markets. Most of these came from Spain. They slipped by the blockade, too.

Last Saturday from "somewhere" came large shipments of pineapples. That's the food story in and day out. Always something new and always dearer.

Michigan Holds First Presidential Primary

(By United Press)

Lansing, Mich., April 3.—Michigan tested her new presidential preference primary law today. Except in cities and counties where important local issues were at stake, interest in the balloting was more or less perfunctory.

Senator William Alden Smith was conceded victor in the contest for the 30 Wolverine delegates to the Chicago convention, although the names of Henry Ford and William Gerald Simpson, both of Detroit, appeared on the republican ballots as seekers after the nomination. Neither Ford nor Simpson made any campaign.

On the democratic ticket, President Wilson was unopposed. The contest for democratic national committeeman between E. O. Wood of Flint, present committeeman, and William A. Comstock of Alpena, attracted some attention. Re-election of the present republican and progressive national committeemen was not contested.

BOPPEL HOME AND PLACE ARE RAIDED

"NUGGET" YIELDS WHISKEY

At Boppel Home Keg Containing Five Gallons of Whiskey Found In the Cellar

Acting on a warrant, Saturday afternoon, Chief of Police Henry Squires, Sheriff Claus A. Theorin and Special Officer E. R. Boyd of the Indian department raided the place of Arthur Boppel, called the "Nugget," a soft drinks establishment at 614 Laurel street, finding three quarts of whiskey in a bag.

The fixtures were seized, taken down by direction of City Attorney D. A. Haggard and stored at the city hall.

Later in the evening Policeman Cheney and Capt. Ole Anderson and Special Officer Boyd searched the home of Edward Boppel, father of Arthur Boppel and Special Officer Boyd stated two 15 gallon whiskey kegs were found in the cellar. One was empty and the other contained about five gallons of whiskey. Some beer and wine were located, which was also seized.

GRADUATE FROM SCHOOL

Crow Wing County Young Men Receive Certificates from School of Agriculture U. of M.

Edward A. Nelson, and Oscar R. Olson of Brainerd, and John N. Taylor, of Outing, were among the 152 seniors who received certificates of graduation from the School of Agriculture of the University of Minnesota at University Farm, St. Paul, last Wednesday. The certificates were awarded by Dean A. F. Woods at the twenty-seventh annual commencement.

In the three years' course of the School of Agriculture 779 students were enrolled this year. Of these 221 were girls. Practical work is the school's field. The commencement programs included demonstrations of better ways to do things on the farm and in the home.

A new series of elective courses will be offered in the School of Agriculture next year. This will permit young men to select half of their work from subjects in which they are most interested. There will be several elective courses for girls also. Before this, there have been no electives either for boys or girls.

BAND CONCERT FRIDAY EVENING

Brainerd City Band of 24 Pieces to Give Fine Program at the Brainerd Opera House

TO CREATE FUND FOR MUSIC

Edwin Harris Bergh will Appear the First Time as Director of the Organization

The Brainerd City band of 24 pieces will give a fine concert on Friday evening, April 7, at the Brainerd opera house. The program contains four overtures, one medley, two marches and two novelettes.

All money remaining after the expenses of the opera house and printing are paid for will go into a fund for the purchase of music for the coming season. Edwin Harris Bergh will appear for the first time as band director.

The musicians have had regular rehearsals and have entered into their studies with vim and enthusiasm. The band is one of which any city may well be proud. Brainerd's midweek evening concerts are copied in other parts of the state, notably Crookston, etc.

The acoustic properties of the opera house have been tested by Creator's band, the Minneapolis Symphony, the Brainerd Symphony, Junior Symphony, the festival chorus of the State Sunday School association. The hall sounds best when filled and accordingly Brainerd should make it a point to occupy every seat in the house. It is for a worthy cause which should be supported unanimously.

BRAINERD'S OLDEST STORIES TODAY

Col. C. D. Johnson was April fooled properly Saturday. Working hard all day, he swung home with a jaunty step and a big appetite and when he grabbed the front door handle he saw a placard which read, "April Fool." The door was locked and nobody was home. The colonel ate down town.

Over at the water and light board offices, reposing on a window ledge, are four bottles of water. One comes from the west group of Spring Bay wells, one from the east group, one is river water and one spring water.

Good judges of water, and there are a few in town, are at a loss when ten feet away to tell which is which. They all look alike and taste about the same. However, there is no undignified scramble to taste the water, even if there are four kinds on display, said Wm. Nelson.

A FIELD DAY FOR DRUNKS

Three in Municipal Court Monday Morning Pleaded Guilty to Imbibing Too Freely

SOURCE OF SUPPLY NOT FOUND

Joseph Segett, Charged with Keeping Unlicensed Drinking Place, Hearing Friday

It was a field day for bibulous personages this morning. Three were on the docket and as Judge Gustav Halvorson sauntered to the court room he noticed a spectator with a "bun on" and he was ordered taken in charge.

Martin Dunn pleaded guilty to being drunk, said he had been arrested once or twice, that he worked at Clear Lake, and that while on his way to St. Cloud he had stopped off at Brainerd. The consequences, in Mr. Dunn's case, appeared to have been disastrous.

City Attorney D. A. Haggard pressed Dunn to tell where he got the "beer," but he said he was a stranger in the city and did not know. He drew $15 and costs or 15 days in the county jail.

Jack Sylvester was called and also pleaded guilty to being drunk. He said he was married and had been working at the dam. He mentioned several occasions when he had been arrested before. He drew $15 and costs, or 15 days.

Joe Segett, charged with drunkenness, also pleaded guilty and drew the same sentence, $15 and costs, or 15 days in jail. He said he kept a soft drink parlor on Laurel street, and acknowledged having been up in court a few days ago.

Joseph Segett was also called to answer to the charge of keeping an unlicensed drinking place, a complaint having been sworn out by Chief of Police Henry Squires, the charge being directed against 502 Laurel street on April 3. This trial was set for Friday, April 7, at 10 o'clock in the morning. Segett pleading not guilty.

The court inquired about Arthur Boppel, but the latter, said Chief Squires, had not yet been arraigned. Court then adjourned.

Germany Has No Trouble Getting Plenty of Babies

BY CARL W. ACKERMAN

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Berlin (Via Amsterdam) April 3.—Germany's infant death rate has not increased, as was supposed in Germany's neighbor countries. On the contrary, it has fallen off materially. Also, Germany's general health is better. S. S. McClure, the American newspaperman and magazine man, has been investigating the matter and these are his conclusions:

Every belligerent country wants all the babies it can get, to make up for losses in battle. There was talk in Germany recently of offering a premium for babies. This has been found unnecessary. Mr. McClure says, Germany has solved the problem otherwise.

This has been accomplished, he explains, by doubling the mothers' "maternity wages" and by discovery that by the addition of vegetables, apple sauce and oatmeal to the babies' diet and the reduction of their allowances of milk, at the age of five months, the infants' health benefits so greatly that far fewer of them die than heretofore. The American's inquiry has covered both Germany and Belgium.

"It is astonishing," he says, "what has been done toward saving the babies' lives. There seems to have been no difficulty in getting them born. The problem has been how to keep them alive afterward. 'Formerly many people were too poor to buy milk. Now, both in Germany and Belgium it is obligatory to make an allowance of one litre daily to each mother.

"Soldiers' wives each receive a 20-cent daily cash allowance. Eight weeks before the birth of a child this allowance is increased 50 per cent, and after the child has been born there is an additional 50 per cent increase if the infant is nursed.

"Berlin's normal milk supply is 1,000,000 litres daily. Today two-thirds as much as this is available. In Berlin alone there are 10,000 cows. Their milk goes to the babies. 'The doctors take such excellent care of mothers that the infant death rate has slumped from 19 to 100—the pre-war rate—to 11 per 100, at present.

"Illness among school children has shown a heavy decrease. Insurance companies report less illness among the people generally than before the war.

"The meatless days and the absence of luxurious foods are simply making a healthier people. It is marvelous. I have been to Brussels, I have seen Brand Whitecote, Gen. von Blasing and others and I learn that infectious disease is almost unknown in Belgium. There has been a tremendous decrease in the number of tuberculosis cases.

"Ninety-seven per cent of the Belgian communities show a lower death rate than ever before. The explanation is that the people eat less meat, and furthermore the supervision of the milk supply makes it possible for everyone who needs it to obtain it in adequate quantities.

"Therefore, why a premium on babies?"

His Age is Against Him

"I am 52 years old and I have been troubled with kidneys and bladder for a good many years," writes Arthur Jones, Allen, Kans. "My age is against me to ever get cured, but Foley Kidney Pills do me more good than anything I ever tried." Rheumatism, aching back, shooting pains, stiff joints, irregular action, all have been relieved.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

GERMANS MAKE FURTHER GAINS

Continue Vigorous Attacks on French Near Verdun.

REPULSE SEVERAL ASSAULTS

Teutons Capture Portion of Forest in the Neighborhood of Fort Douaumont, but Are Checked in Their Advance to the East of the Meuse.

Paris, April 3.—The Germans launched heavy attacks again against the French positions both to the west and east of the Meuse. To the west the attacks were repulsed, but to the east, in the neighborhood of Fort Douaumont, the assaulting forces were able to penetrate the Callette wood, lying to the south. From the northern part of the wood they were almost immediately ejected by French counter attacks.

The official statement on these operations issued by the war office reads: "Between the Somme and the Oise our artillery was particularly active in the region of Parvillers, Fouquescourt and Lassigny, where German trenches were shattered by our fire. "West of the Meuse the Germans launched several powerful attacks on a corner of the Avocourt wood. All the assaults were repulsed by our barrier of fire and the fire of our machine guns.

"To the east of the Meuse the fighting was very spirited in the region of Douaumont and Vaux. The Germans, after a bombardment of extreme violence with shells of heavy caliber, directed four simultaneous attacks with effectives of more than one division on our positions between Fort Douaumont and the village of Vaux, southeast of Fort Douaumont. They penetrated Callette wood, but our counter attacks delivered immediately drove them back in the northern part of the wood. South of Vaux our line runs along the immediate outskirts of the village, the last ruined houses of which we have evacuated."

DUTCH ARE IN DARK REGARDING EVENTS

The Hague, April 3.—The secret of the increased diplomatic tension in Holland is being well kept. Even persons whose positions justify the assumption that they have knowledge of what is happening confess that they themselves are puzzled.

A competent authority declared there was no immediate prospect of Holland becoming involved in hostilities with any power, though it was true that Germany lately had somewhat increased her forces along the frontier and that precautionary measures on Holland's side were a natural consequence. It was pointed out that if war were impending more would be done than the temporary stoppage of furloughs, which, moreover, had been done before.

FEDERAL GASOLINE PROBE COMPLETED

Washington, April 3.—Government agencies investigating the spectacular rise in the price of gasoline have virtually concluded preliminary phases of their work and will report to congress this week. In the meantime the department of justice, which has kept in close touch with the situation, will consider the evidence with a view of determining whether prosecutions are warranted under the anti-trust law.

Every available field agent of the federal trade commission has been assigned to the gasoline inquiry, under the direction of Commissioner W. J. Harris. Reports by the various companies involved have been checked, so far as possible. Crude oil producers, manufacturing companies, pipe lines, selling agencies, even tank wagons, in every section of the country have been under surveillance.

A tremendous mass of data has resulted, bearing on all phases of the industry. Essentials of this information have been placed before the attorney general as fast as gathered.

The department of justice virtually left the entire inquiry to the commission.

WEALTHY WOMAN MURDERED

Wounds on the Head Indicated Slayer Used Hatchet.

Jeffersonville, Ind., April 3.—Mrs. Mary F. Brookbank, a wealthy woman, was found murdered in her home in Jefferson. Wounds on her head were such as would have been made had her assailant used a hatchet as his weapon. The condition of the body indicated the crime had been committed not later than Friday.

Mrs. Brookbank lived alone and neighbors, alarmed at her failure to appear for several days, instituted a search which resulted in the discovery of her body.

Ten steamships of 13,927 tons were sunk by mines. One steamship of 2,131 tons was sunk by an enemy warship or a mine.

Forty-three lives were lost in the case of steamships sunk by warships and eighty-one in steamships sunk by mines.

Montreal, April 3.—Word has been received here that Captain Fred Shaughnessy, second son of Lord Shaughnessy, head of the Canadian Pacific railroad, had been killed in action.

GERARD DENIES HE INTENDS TO RESIGN

Berlin, April 3.—James W. Gerard, the American ambassador, has issued a statement through the Wolff bureau, regarding the report telegraphed here from the United States that he intends to resign, return to America and become a candidate for governor of New York. The statement says:

"The ambassador regards it his duty not to leave the important post at Berlin during the war, especially as any possible successor would not easily work into the difficult and often complicated matter of British interests entrusted to him, such as those of civil and military prisoners. He hopes to remain in Berlin at least until the end of the great war."

SEEK TO KILL OFF BOOM FOR HUGHES

Certain Leaders Want Him to Declare Himself.

MANY PREFER ROOSEVELT.

President Wilson, Like His Predecessor, Has an Ananias Club—Rights and Wrongs of Poor Lo Discussed in Senate in Discussion of Indian Appropriation Bill.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, April 3.—[Special.]—Republican leaders who are shaping up the presidential situation—or trying to—want something definite from Justice Hughes, and they are considering methods to ascertain just what his attitude will be in regard to a nomination.

"We can't go ahead and nominate a man who may refuse it," they say. "That would give the campaign a black eye from the start. Hughes ought to say definitely that he will not accept the nomination even if it is offered to him. That would stop the selection of Hughes delegates that has been going on."

The men who talk this way are the men who do not want Hughes nominated. They want him forced out of the race before too many delegates are elected who are committed to him.

Many Prefer Roosevelt.

As a matter of fact, many Republican leaders, even those who have fought Roosevelt most bitterly, prefer the colonel to Hughes. No one supposes Bill Barnes will go that far, but there are men in New York and other states who say that they "can do business" with Roosevelt, but are doubtful about "doing business" with Hughes.

This means that they would know just what to expect from Roosevelt, but they are doubtful whether they would be able to get near Hughes if he were in the White House.

Most of the political information regarding Hughes comes to Republicans from those members of the party who recollect him as governor of New York and are not disposed to give him a very high recommendation.

A Club of His Own.

President Wilson has an Ananias club of his own. He is different from Roosevelt in that he does not boldly name the men who are kicked into the club, but he evidently has a list that would be interesting. When he said he obtained most of his information regarding Mexico from taking the opposite view from that furnished by many liars he began accumulating his club. Since the present Mexican affair started he has added to the list with rapidity.

If Roosevelt should return to the White House he would find a rival or similar organization to his own, but one fully as large.

Stone's Philosophy.

It was just after one of those tilts that frequently occur between Senators Stone of Missouri and Borah of Idaho that the Missouri senator delivered the following: "When a man becomes obsessed with the idea that he is running for president he is all too apt to be influenced by some vain delusion and is likewise too apt to think he promotes one vain delusion by exploiting another."

Now, that was not aimed at Borah only in a general way. The target was really Senator Sherman of Illinois, whose activities in regard to Mexico have been annoying to the Democratic administration and the leaders in the senate. Besides, Sherman is an actual candidate for the presidency, and Borah has made it plain that he has no such ambitions.

Again the Platform.

Even on the Indian appropriation bill a question arose as to whether the Democratic national platform was being carried out. The question was raised about the retention of the public domain in such large reservations. Gallinger of New Hampshire asserted that there ought to be some declaration in the Democratic platform on the subject, and Shaforth of Colorado, a Democrat, showed that there was such a declaration, but it had not been carried out.

Friend of the Indian.

The red man is "Poor Lo" in the mind of Senator Lane of Oregon. He never misses an opportunity to come to the defense of Poor Lo during the consideration of the Indian appropriation bill, and he often criticizes the white men for encroaching upon the Indian lands and the tendency of the whites to take the money of the Indians. Lane has had a great deal of experience in the Indian country.

Indiana Methods.

A point of order was made against a provision in the Indian appropriation bill, and after considerable argument Senator Clapp of Minnesota asked that the ruling of the vice president be postponed until the next day.

"The chair will withhold the ruling until tomorrow," remarked Vice President Marshall; "but, like the Indiana justice who said he would not rule until Monday morning, although he would lay $5 that a certain man was beaten in the case, the chair is of the opinion that the point of order will be sustained."

MOTOR ROAD IN MEXICO.

First Highway For Exclusive Use of Automobiles Recently Completed.

What is said to be the first highway for the exclusive use of automobiles ever built in Mexico was recently finished between Tampico and Panuco, a distance of about thirty-five miles. It is for the use of motor trucks and automobiles in extensive oil operations at Panuco. The highway was constructed by the oil companies. Herebefore transportation between Panuco and Tampico had been by boats on the Panuco river, compelling oil companies to maintain expensive gasoline launches for their officials and other employees. Now a regular service of automobiles will be established between the two terminals.

The country districts around Tampico are sadly lacking in good roads, but it is expected that this condition will be remedied rapidly. Many of the larger oil companies are already spending considerable money in the construction of roads for their private use, and later many of these highways probably will be connected and made into a general system and thrown open to the public.

Plans are also on foot for a modern highway between Tampico and Monterey, more than 325 miles, and also one between Monterey and Matamoros, on the Rio Grande border, about 315 miles. The states of Tamaulipas and Nuevo Leon will aid these projects, and the federal government is expected to aid.

German Said To be Worried About Coming Crops

(By United Press)

The Hague, April 3.—Germans are worrying already concerning the coming harvest. Newspapers from the kaiser's side of the frontier lay much stress on the fact that relief from present semi-famine conditions is more important than even the greatest military gains.

The anxious tone of this comment strongly suggests that the press puts little faith in the official attributions of 1915's comparatively unsatisfactory showing to bad weather.

As a matter of fact, it is asserted, the area of land under cultivation actually decreased and it is denied in any case was cultivation as intensive as it should have been.

For one thing, it is said that so large a proportion of agricultural laborers were drafted into the army that work was left to inexperienced hands. The government is cautiously urged to consider that the importance of a good crop this year is sufficient to warrant even the temporary release of men from military duty if they are needed on the farms.

A shortage of draft cattle is complained of and last year, it is stated, the supply of seed and fertilizer was adversely affected by the strain on the railroads.

BARS NEW RIVER PROJECT

House Votes Down Amendment to Harbor Bill.

Washington, April 3.—The first effort to add new projects to the $40,000,000 rivers and harbors appropriation bill failed in the house when an amendment by Representative Teague to appropriate $400,000 for a forty-foot channel from President Roads at Boston to the sea was rejected overwhelmingly.

House leaders professed to see in the vote a forecast that the committee recommendation against new projects would be approved and that the bill would pass virtually as reported.
